A historical map of the northeast of Mexico, showing various regions and towns. The map is drawn in brown ink on a light-colored background. It features a compass rose in the top left corner and a scale bar in the bottom left corner. The map is overlaid with text in blue and purple. The main title is in large blue letters with a white outline. Below it, the author's name and affiliation are in purple. At the bottom, the event details are also in purple. The map itself shows various geographical features like rivers, mountains, and towns, with some names written in cursive script.
